“GRACE THAT MUST BE BELIEVED TO BE SEEN”

The Rev. Dr. Christine Tata, preaching

Quick quiz: When you look at a Jackson Pollock painting, do you see: 1) random paint splatter; 2) fine art; or 3) a crime scene? Ask the same question about the whole universe and before you know it, you’re doing theology. Each of us assembles a mental image, a collage, out of the infinite array of moments, things, and thoughts that we encounter, and that’s our reality. But no two are ever alike; how could they be? Where someone sees no work of art, why would they see an Artist? Ponder these and other gentle questions with the Rev. Dr. Christine Tata on Sunday.
